Pretty Cool Clothing!

Husband and wife team Simone and Scott Cooper of Quantum Racing Industries have just launched 'Cool Shirts'; a range of temperature-controlled clothing distributed as 'Quantum Chill'! The lightweight cotton shirts are specially designed to maintain or quickly return core body temperatures to normal levels featuring an internal pump unit that contains ice and water which travels to the shirt through a connector hose. An added safety measure for drivers, the most popular product from the range is the Hans-friendly, compact Club 12 System, weighing just over 1kg. The system contains more than 50 feet of medical grade capillary tubing securely stitched on the front and back of the shirt and has four cooling zones meaning the shirt can be worn comfortably for long periods of time and is suitable for road racing, circle track and drags. For further information visit www.coolshirt.net or contact Simone Cooper on 0402 657 322 for pricing.
